News and information for the members of the Maryland Orchid Society

October 2012

president's message

The weather is cooling down, the days are getting shorter, and there seems to be a certain urgency in the air to finish up all those projects we seem to never have the time to get done before the cold weather starts.

For us orchidists, it may be that those plants you've had outside all year need to be brought back in from summer vacation. If you are a greenhouse grower, it's a good time to spray fungicide now to keep down on the ills of cooler days and nights coming. Or perhaps you grow on a windowsill. If so, it maybe be time to start looking for pests as the air in your home gets dryer due to the use of heaters. Whatever it is, these projects can be added to the myriad of others this time of year. Raking leaves, fall decorating, fertilizing the lawn, etc...

Fall is my favorite time of the year. Time for friends, family and crisp weather. The important thing is that you don't forget to enjoy the season even though your schedule may be very busy. Pick some apples or a pumpkin at the local farmers market. Go to a fall festival or maybe an orchid auction! And of course by all means, attend an orchid show to see what's new out in the world of orchids.

The chill in the air will help remind you to get those things on your list done before snow blankets the land for our long rest.

Eric

In October Clark Riley Says, "OK, You're Out of Room for More Orchids. Now What?"

Are you tired of trying to shoe-horn plants into every micromillimeter of space in your home or greenhouse? Has your spouse threatened many times to disown you because your Tolumnias have taken over the terrace? Has she suggested a separation because your Sophronitis are stuffed in her sewing room? Is your library lousy with Laelia leucoptera? Are Brassavolas bursting out of your basement? OK, I'll stop.

Clark Riley has been growing orchids continuously since 1957. In October he talks about how to set up higher-density orchid growing without driving your spouse away.

Join us Thursday, October 18 as Clark applies half a century of expertise growing and sharing his love of everything orchid. Clark will bring a selection of plants from his collection for sale including some mini-Cattleyas, Paphs, Phrags, and Habenarias (going dormant, with instructions).

Dendrobiums damaging her dainties; Pleurothallis populating the pantry; Grammatophyllum growing up the garage; Restrepias roosting in the roasting pan; Cattleyas contaminating the cat food. Neofinetias noodling your nosechairs....

Lynn Fuller, Chair, AOS Affiliated Societies Committee

What are the responsibilities of AOS Representatives? It is a requirement for affiliation with AOS that both the society and the AOS Rep be current members of the AOS. The AOS Reps are typically appointed by their society president or society board. The AOS Rep's primary responsibility is to communicate activities of the AOS to their societies. Some Reps keep up to date with the activities of AOS through the monthly magazine Orchids or by visiting the website on a regular basis and then pass this information on to the board, newsletter editor or the membership at a meeting. The Reps also can communicate any news or concerns of their society to the AOS through the Affiliated Society Committee at affiliated_societies@aos.org. We suggest they say something about the AOS to the entire membership at each meeting, and make sure there are AOS applications available to their members. If your society's Rep has changed this season, please communicate that change to the AOS.

Call for nominations. The AOS Nominating Committee is accepting applications for consideration as trustees in the American Orchid Society. If you know of someone who would be interested in being considered as Trustee on the Board of Trustees (or if you are interested), forward their information and background (and perhaps any reasons they might be an asset to the Board of Trustees) to the Chair of the Committee, George Hatfield at nominating_committee@aos.org. Contact George as well if you have any questions regarding the requirements or qualifications for a Trustee. The Nominating Committee has the responsibility of vetting and ranking nominations received and providing a slate of candidates for election at the Spring AOS Members' Meeting in the spring of 2013.

Celebrate Orchids, Celebrate Life!

Portland Orchid Society AOS Members Meeting and Show will be held at the Doubletree by Hilton Portland, Oregon, November 13-18, 2012. A great line up of speakers and vendors are planned. For more information and registration, visit www.portlandorchidsociety.com. The Affiliated Societies will be having their tradition breakfast on Friday morning. This breakfast is the societies' opportunity to discuss their activities, ask questions or get advice of a number of officers and trustees of AOS as well as enjoy the company of each other and talk of our hobby of orchids.
