April's Speaker: Bill Thoms of A-Doribil

Renowned orchid grower, world traveler and internationally recognized speaker Bill Thoms will be presenting a talk on Bulbophyllums (the largest genus in the orchid world!)

Be prepared to learn more about this fascinating group of plants than you ever dreamed! Bill Thoms and his wife, Doris Dukes, have been growing orchids around Central Florida for more than 40 years and have received almost every award granted by the AOS as well as more Awards for Culture than anyone else in the world, (95 in over 30 genera, including 45 in the bulbophyllum alliance (capped off with a 97 pt. Certificate of Cultural Excellence for Bulb. Sue Blackmore).

Bill is the only person to receive Awards of Quality for Bulbophyllum hybrids as well as receiving the hybridizer's dream; an Award of Distinction for a new avenue of breeding (a Trias hybrid). Many of his crosses are winning awards around the country. The AOS has just added a yearly award named for him for the best Bulbophyllum exhibited.

The talks are spiced with funny stories and funny associations so whether you grow thousands of orchids, only a few, or none at all, you will have a wonderfully entertaining time and be able to grow anything better. Many of the most important requirements for growing world class plants are made easy to understand and remember.

Don't miss this great opportunity to learn how to grow these fascinating plants and to hear one of the most knowledgeable, interesting and funny speakers in the orchid world. His new book, Bulbophyllums; the Incomplete Guide, From A to WHY? will be available for purchase ($44.95, but discounted for the members) and he will sign them for free!!

Don't Miss These Exciting Speakers!

Deborah Dade has a thrilling speaker line-up planned for MOS' 2013 monthly meetings. Tentatively scheduled are the following presenters:

May: Joe Silva, Silva Orchids, Neptune, NJ

June: Robert Griesbach, "A Guide to Phalaenopsis Species"

September: Tom McBride, The Little Greenhouse, Baltimore, MD

October: Tom Mirenda, Smithsonian Institution Orchid Collection Specialist, Washington, D.C.

To be announced: Linda Thorne, Seagrove Orchids, Seagrove, NC

The Little Greenhouse's Display

The Rawlings Conservatory (and Orchid Room) Celebrates 125 Years

In 1874, Baltimore City park commissioners designated sufficient ground and proposed to establish a botanical conservatory in Druid Hill Park. George A. Frederick, the park architect was directed to design and make plans for the new building. Conservatory Committee member, Mr. Abbott Kenney, travelled to Europe to visit the famous Kew Gardens of London. These gardens and Conservatory served as a model for Baltimore's planned structure of iron and wood with a palm house at its center. Baltimore workmen began the building process in 1885 and opened to a crowd of 300 on August 26, 1888!

In 2002 the Conservatory started a major reconstruction that was completed in September 2004. The project focused on preserving, updating and improving the original Palm House structure since it is the second oldest surviving municipal glass conservatory in the United States. The renovations also included three redesigned greenhouses featuring plants indigenous to climates from the Mediterranean, tropical and desert regions of the world. With its reopening, the Baltimore Conservatory was renamed The Howard Peters Rawlings Conservatory in honor of the statesman who believed in the Conservatory's power to educate.

The Orchid Room is the colorful jewel of the Conservatory since its opening to the public in 1888. With a floor space of approximately 270 square feet there are usually 300 orchids on display no matter when you visit. The glass walls rise over 15 feet; they are covered with metal framing which allows the perfect orchid showplace with plenty of air circulation. These beautiful orchids thrive under Alice Hisely's tender care three days a week. October through March are Alice's favorite months because the Dendrobiums, Vandas and the Cattleyas are in bloom. Cattleyas never disappoint with their bright blooms from ¼ inch to six inches in size. Her most unusual orchid is the Angrecum from Madagascar.

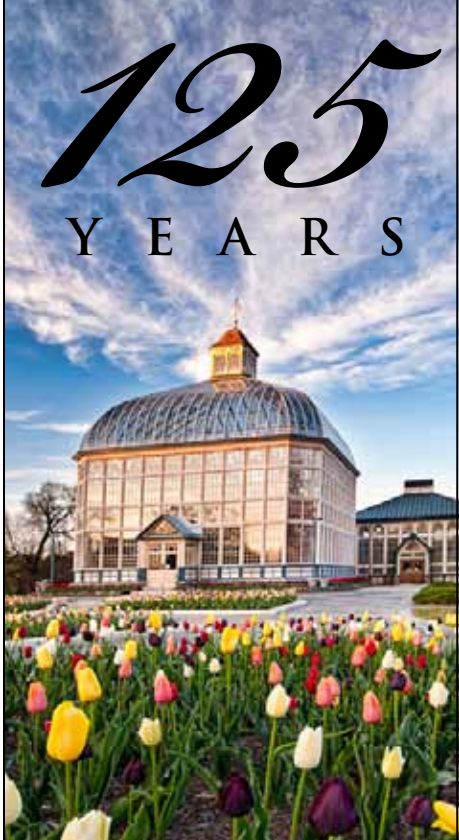

The orchid collection consists of over 3000 specimens. When not on bloom display in the Orchid Room, they were kept in a crowded rotation greenhouse behind the Conservatory. However, they have been moved to a more accommodating location at Cylburn's greenhouses. Alice is a self-taught orchidist and enjoys the challenge of healing orchids and welcomes all donated specimens.

To plan your visit please contact the Conservatory at 410-396-0008 or visit rawlingsconservatory.org.

The MOS Newsletter, published monthly by the Maryland Orchid Society September through June, shares the latest news of our orchid community. Please submit your comments to sobelman1@verizon.net

We invite articles, notices, etc. for inclusion in our newsletter. The deadline for inclusion is first Sunday of the month.

The MOS brings together people interested in orchids to promote and encourage orchid culture, preservation, education, propagation, hybridization, and all other orchid-related activities of interest to its members. Benefits of membership include a subscription to the Newsletter (e-mail and web), voting rights, borrowing privileges from the MOS Library, monthly guest speakers, local judging, valuable door prizes, and much, much, more!

If you are interested in orchid culture and would like to meet others with similar interests, we cordially invite you to join the ranks of Marylanders already enjoying the benefits of membership in the Maryland Orchid Society.
